Course Outline:

Technology can play a vital role in transforming the organisation to achieve higher productivity, better user experience and increased employee satisfaction. Organisations can act on new opportunities and market demands to enable innovation that creates new business models and amazing customer experiences, as well as bringing in business benefits of increased revenue and streamlined operations. In this webinar, PwC's cloud and cybersecurity team will share experiences in helping organisations to navigate their cloud transformation journey and what needs to be done to go to cloud.

In response to the recent coronavirus outbreak, many organisations have started some form of remote access and digital workplace solution to minimise the impact of disruption. However, many members may seek more practical advice and tips on how to maximise productivity to more effectively engage with your teams and end users. We will share our experience in helping organisations to accelerate their journey on the adoption of modern communication and collaboration solutions without sacrificing productivity and security.

In this session, we will also discuss the cloud transformation for the modern workplace to enable remote working and empower colleagues to stay productive from anywhere and at any time. We will demo one of the top collaboration tool to showcase how it can solve your collaboration challenges while ensuring security safeguards and governance are in place.
